OPEN LETTER TO EMPLOYER

American Education Certification Association (AECA) is a professional certification association developing and administering certification exams for various professional disciplines that mainly includes Allied Healthcare, Rehabilitation, Sports/Fitness, Administrative, Technology Certifications, and Career Advancement Certifications. Our main goal is to test the test takers with industry based standard exams so that the candidate can display the knowledge gained during the period of study in a chosen professional discipline or through work experience.

Candidates (test takers) must be eligible to attempt the certification exam via one of the routes of eligibility to attempt the certification exam administered by the American Education Certification Association (AECA). Upon successfully passing the certification exam the candidate is certified for the respective certification exam he or she may have attempted.

We at American Education Certification Association (AECA) strive hard to maintain our certified candidate information, which can be verified by the employer at any time. Just fill and submit our CREDENTIAL VERIFICATION FORM that is available on the VERIFY page of our website.

We work with academic institutions by adhering to standards by which we stand. Strict proctor/examiner monitoring is maintained during the sessions of the exam. Our exam format includes questions that include multiple choice, drag and drop, arrange in sequence, fill in the bank, match the following, hot spots, etc. We try to find different methods in which we can assess the true knowledge of the test takers. All exams are administered online and are timed.

AECA certification is valid for one year and all candidates certified through AECA are required to attend continuing education units (CEUs) to renew their certification.

Our exams are developed by industry-based standards surveyed by experts from prospective industry to maintain the standards of the exams.
